The Fabricator...Allied Oilfield:

Since it's founding Allied has been locally focused and community driven. Their employees, who have decades of experience in the manufacturing industry, take pride in having the capability to design and fabricate a wide array of products.

President, COO, Dallas Pena, put his team to work with VP of Engineering, Ryan Hall at the helm, to bring these handrails to life.

The Artist...Pauline Mills:

Born & raised in Cork City, Ireland, Pauline came to America in 1986 to seek her fortune and found it in mosaics!

In 2009, she opened a mosaic studio and gallery - Glassyalley. She teaches weekly classes & has added instruction in carved concrete, welding, and sculpture.

 #2-3 - John & Bette Hope, 2012.
 #4-5 - Burl Cole, 1984.
 #15-44 - Pauline Mills, 2022.

The Installer...Rentfro Construction:

Our pinch hitter is Qwynn Holder of Rentfro Construction. After the fabrication was complete, with no advanced warning, these guys stepped up and installed all 16 handrails in one day.

New Morning Mosaic by John & Bette Hope

Hockley City, Texas, surveyed and platted in 1912 by C.W. Post, would change its name to Levelland, in 1922, and become the county seat.

Levelland has several claims to fame including SPC Creative Arts Department which has graduated students that have gone on to become famous recording artists. It's also known for it's premiere Industrial Railpark and in 1968 gave birth to its first mosaic.

Mosaics date back 6,000 years as an art technique in which cubes of glass tile are fixed in a pattern to make a work of art. Each mosaic in Levelland pays homage to its history, industry, education and culture.

On March 27, 2019, the Governor of the State of Texas, presented Levelland with a Concurrent Resolution, approved by the 86th Legislature of the State of Texas, it be resolved that Levelland is designated as the official...

...City of Mosaics!

Levelland is now home to 46 mosaics.
