Discussion about Building Codes update.

To help address new risks and improve safety standards, construction practices, and due to technological advancements, environmental considerations, evolving risk and research, international building codes are updated to enhance public safety, incorporate new technologies, address environmental concerns, and respond to evolving societal needs. City staff are asking to adopt a more current code cycle, 2021 for the International Building Codes, and the 2020 National Electric Code. Currently the city of Lubbock has the 2021 cycle adopted and the 2020 for the NEC, and since we receive a numerous amount of contractors from Lubbock, it would benefit us to use the same cycles as well as Lubbock's amendments to said codes.

Staff anticipates bringing this to Council in December.
